DRAWING POINTS DOMINIC KESHAVARZ

EXHIBITION DATES | 15th - 28th September
PRIVATE VIEW | Thursday 14th September

I'm drawn to quiet places....

Dominic Keshavarz is an artist based in Faversham, Kent

Bosahan Cove
29 x 42cm
Pen

He makes pen and ink drawings using layers of fine dots sculpting light and shade to create a near photorealist depiction of the space.

This technique is relatively time consuming and the drawings are a visual record of this time.

In this way the artist hopes the works will suggest both an immediate sensation of a place and a more lingering contemplation of time passing in the space, much as one might experience by being in that place in nature.

Having studied for his fine art degree he went on to follow other interests and has recently returned to the foundation of his art practice and that is drawing.

He was a finalist in the 2016 Ashurst Art Prize and was selected to show in the 2016 NEAC Annual Exhibition.
